the investment bankers and they want the stability of this bond which they peddled to be maintained but I don't think that that's the job of this legislature. I think that the Constitution says that it's not the job of this legislature. I'd have serious question about the constitutionality of us doing this and certainly I don't think that it's the proper thing for us to do.

PRESIDENT: Senator Dickinson.

SENATOR DICKINSON: Mr. President, members of the Legislature, first may I ask a couple of questions of Senator Stull?

SENATOR STULL: Yes sir.

SENATOR DICKINSON: Senator Stull, what is the procedure that you're supposing will happen if we introduce this bill? Is this going to take precedence then over bills that have been waiting all this session to try to get some priority to be discussed, debated by this body?

SENATOR STULL: Senator Dickinson, this is an appropriation bill and I would assume that it would take precedence over other bills.

SENATOR DICKINSON: Okay, that is one objection I have right offhand. I just don't think that's a fair procedure to set these bills out and take precedence over other bills that have been before us all session. What would be involved in remodeling costs? It seems like a highrise dormitory wouldn't be very adaptable to a physical education building. So what's involved after the initial cost of taking over the revenue bonds?

SENATOR STULL: Senator Dickinson, this isn't the highrise building down there.

SENATOR DICKINSON: It is a dormitory?

SENATOR STULL: It is a dormitory, yes.

SENATOR DICKINSON: What is it? How many levels is it?

SENATOR STULL: It's at least a two story building. I've been in it and.....

SENATOR DICKINSON: Would it take considerably remodeling to turn into a physical education building?

SENATOR STULL: It could be used for dressing rooms and office space and it actually couldn't be used for a gym, no. If you've ever been down on that campus, the building that they are using as their health service is a, I don't know how to describe it. I don't.....

SENATOR DICKINSON: What per cent of face value of the bonds are we talking about that they would probably be able to buy for?

SENATOR STULL: This would appropriate four hundred and fifty thousand to buy a six hundred thousand face value.

SENATOR DICKINSON: So they would be getting seventy per cent
